

Member Acknowledgement

1. The Member will have access to a Plan Attorney, who is not employed by National Association of Family Services, to assist the member with legal issues.
2. Any decision to utilize estate planning documents or techniques specific to the member's legal situation will be decided during consultation with a plan attorney.
3. National Association of Family Services is not a law firm or a law office. The representative who presented this plan is not an attorney, paralegal or certified public accountant.
4. The representative did not recommend any specific legal or financial planning documents. The representative only provided general information, costs and statistics, which is not applicable to the member's specific situation.
5. The new Member will receive the "Membership Document Folder" that explains the benefits offered by National Association of Family Services.
6. Legal Services Plan: Any decision regarding the engagement of an attorney should be based on an independent investigation of all facts and circumstances that the member deems relevant in making the decision. A member of the Legal Services Plan has complete discretion in deciding which attorney to retain, if any. Any selection of an attorney by a member shall be the sole responsibility of the member, and National Association of Family Services, nor any of its affiliates, shall have liability therefore. Members shall utilize the Legal Services Plan at their own risk. The Legal Services Plan makes no representation regarding, and does not guarantee the likelihood of, a member finding to the member's liking or satisfaction an attorney through the Legal Services Plan. Discounts on contingency fees are at the discretion of the participating attorney. Please discuss all fees, costs and discounts with your attorney in advance.
7. Financial Services Plan: Any decision regarding the use of a plan provider should be based on an independent investigation of all facts and circumstances that the member deems relevant in making the decision. A member of the Financial Services Plan has complete discretion in deciding which plan provider to utilize, if any. Any selection of a plan provider by a member shall be the sole responsibility of the member, and National Association of Family Services, nor any of its affiliates, shall have liability therefore. Members shall utilize the Financial Services Plan at their own risk.
8. Discounts on some fees and costs may be limited or prohibited by applicable law or court mandate.
